

INSTRUCTORS

Since their arrival in the United States more than twelve years ago, Sergei and Olga Bezrodnov have made a name for themselves in the upper echelons of Dancesport in this country. They have gone from being newcomers on the scene here (although they were champions in their region in Russia) to being regular finalists in both the Rising Star Professional Standard and the Open Professional Standard competitions where the best dancers from all over the U.S. vie for top honors.

They have been finalists several times in the most prestigious and hotly-contested competitions in this country, including the United States National Rising Star Professional Standard Dancesport Championships in Miami, Florida. They have been singled out for praise by a number of judges writing in various Dancesport publications such as Dance Beat, where they were described as a couple with unlimited potential and an unusual understanding of the dance.
